ABOUT THE COLLITON CLUB

In medieval times Colliton Park was the site of the monastic hospital of St. John the Baptist, although no remains have been found, it is believed that it was located in the area where Colliton House now stands.

In the 16th Century, Colliton Park was owned by the Churchill family, used it to graze livestock, as their main home was at Muston Manor in Piddlehinton. One of the descendants of the family - William Churchill, who was the High Sheriff of Dorset in 1639, had Colliton House built as his townhouse.

The House therefore dates back to the 16th-17th century. It is a grade 2 listed building containing some fine 16th century panelling and an 18th century staircase. Above the external porch is a cartouche containing the arms of the Churchill family.

In 1933 the House and Colliton Park was purchased by the County Council. Work on building County Hall began in 1938. In 1949 the government were encouraging employers to provide canteens for their employees.

The ground floor of Colliton House was adapted to meet this requirement, and this was the birth of the Colliton Club.

The modern day Colliton Club is now leased to Colliton Club Limited by Dorset Council and is now open for all to become a member and enjoy the Club.
